THE IMPORTANCE OF A PUBLIC HOUSE

This quotation is from the introduction to The Pub is the Hub by H.R.H. Prince Charles:

‘Rural communities, and this country’s rural way of life, are facing unprecedented challenges. Now, perhaps more than ever in their history, they must draw on their resourcefulness and resilience, built up over centuries...’

‘Even the country pub, which has been at the heart of the village for centuries, is disappearing in many areas...’

‘Finding new uses for village pubs, many of which are the only remaining service in the community, has therefore become one part of Business in the Community’s Rural Action programme under the campaign headline ‘Make the Pub the Hub’. by providing new services from the pub, such as a post office or a shop, not only keeps an essential service in the village, or brings a new one in, but increases the income of the pub itself, giving it a more secure future...’
